

Michael Wolfe

Vice President, Lending
Belco Community Credit Union

Michael Wolfe, Vice President of Lending for Belco Community Credit Union, is committed to providing the best products and services for members while upholding to Responsible Lending standards of excellence. As lending plays a vital role in members needs, Mike is focused on expanding Belco's offerings to include items that will assist them in achieving their financial goals.

During his time at Belco, Mike has advanced the Business Services area to provide a full variety of loan products. Mike started Belco's loan participation program to now include mortgage as well as business loans. Mike oversaw the creation of a new Indirect Lending Department that includes indirect auto loans and merchant loans. In addition, Mike contributed to the development of Belco's centralized lending environment that offers Members the opportunity to choose how they want to apply for a loan.

Mike is inspired by the work, not only himself, but the entire Belco team does each day for its members.

Mike holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting from Albright College. He is currently working toward his MBA at Elizabethtown College.
