

Timothy Grossman

Vice President, Finance Accounting

Tim Grossman, VP, Finance Accounting leads a team of Belco professionals to ensure the credit union remains financially sound and on budget. Tim and his team work hard each day in the best interest of Belco's members, ensuring our numbers accurately reflect the soundness of the credit union.

Tim has worked in the credit union industry since 2013, starting as a Member Service Representative. His unique background in History quickly led him to see the story behind the credit union movement and its mission of people helping people.

Tim credits his team with much of his department's success. Keeping a close eye on Belco's financials keeps the credit union strong and growing. He enjoys learning about his team and their strengths and working closely with them to get the work done.

Having a strong team allows Tim to take on initiatives elsewhere in the credit union, such as financial analysis, industry trends and prudent budgeting.

Tim holds a master's degree in Business Administration with a certificate in Entrepreneurship from West Chester University of Pennsylvania. He earned his bachelor's degree at West Chester in History with a minor in Political Science.
